ACTION TAKEN REPORT

Anti Ragging Committee-Academic Year 2022-2023

INTRODUCTION: The Anti-Ragging Committee members gathered at Velammal Institute of Technology Principal's office on JULY 10th, 2022, at 11:00 A.M., with the goal of preserving a campus free from ragging incidents.

Result of meeting: The institute, established in the academic year 2009-2010 in accordance with the approval letter issued by AICTE and the State Government of Tamil Nadu, affiliated with Anna University, has maintained a vigilant stance against ragging incidents, especially as it enters its tenth year. Through strict monitoring and active engagement of all members, there have been no reported cases of ragging. It is unanimously agreed upon that continued vigilance is imperative. Regular interaction with council members and student representatives is emphasized to deter any form of bullying or ragging. The management has ensured transparency by installing CCTV surveillance covering most areas, providing valuable monitoring. Additionally, helpline numbers have been prominently displayed across campus on posters for immediate assistance.

Conclusion: In conclusion, all members unanimously agreed that while our campus remains free from ragging, sustained vigilance is imperative, considering the prevalence of ragging in many other institutions. Even in virtual settings, we must remain vigilant for instances of cyber ragging. It is essential to encourage students to report any such incidents promptly.

Recommendations: In view of the above we suggest that constant vigilance be maintained so that we set examples for other institutes of being a ragging free campus since inception.
